

TO CULTIVATE COFFEE.

THE ALOHA COMPANY HAS 300 ACRES ON HAWAII.

What a Director Says—Plenty of Money and Flattering Prospects Ahead.

Messrs. A. Theo. Gruetter and I. Witkowski left for Hilo by the Claudine Tuesday afternoon. Both of the gentlemen arrived from the States by the Australia last Saturday. Mr. Gruetter has been for many years in business at Lincoln, Nebraska. He has a six-story business house with seventy-five feet front, and the amount of his sales foot up into the hundreds of thousands in a year. In Nebraska, in Kansas and contiguous counties of other States his stock of furnishings and hardware are distributed.

Mr. Witkowski, on the other hand, is a lumber dealer of Chicago, Illinois. For many years he was manager for several large Michigan firms in the lake metropolises and out of the business became wealthy. Now he is "amateur of all he surveys," owning the establishment which once claimed his attention as a laborer.

But what is most interesting about these two gentlemen is that they have come to Hawaii for the purpose of investing large sums of money in the development of the rich industries and resources of the country. They are going into the coffee business.

The fame of Kona coffee is not confined to Hawaii nor yet San Francisco, but away up in the central States they have heard of it, know its unexcelled qualities and the profits to be derived from its cultivation. Messrs. Gruetter and Witkowski can talk Kona coffee almost as glibly as Mr. Joseph Marsden, though they have been in this country but four days and were never here before; and they are a long way from home.

Perhaps Mr. Peck of Honolulu may be thanked for disseminating a large part of this information. The gentlemen themselves seem grateful to Mr. Peck for his tuition in this line, and admit that "twas he who first interested them in Kona coffee. Nor did Mr. Peck cease there. In Chicago are Messrs. Tonk and Hurlbert, two wealthy business men, whose eyes are as much this way as those of the two gentlemen now here, and these were so influenced by the same person.

As the fruits of Mr. Peck's work a party of gentlemen met in Chicago last summer and organized the Aloha Coffee Company. The directors appointed at that time were Messrs. Tonk, Hurlbert, Gruetter, Witkowski and Peck.

The newspapers published accounts of the formation of this company, but they made one mistake. They said it was capitalized at $500,000. There is no "watered" stock in the Aloha Company; it is all paid up, and the sum total is precisely $180,000. This will, of course, be increased from time to time as expenses begin to pile up.

Mr. Gruetter was seen at the Hawaiian Hotel Tuesday afternoon and spoke very freely on the subject of his mission to Hawaii. In answer to questions bearing upon the following topics Mr. Gruetter said:

"Our company was organized for the purpose of cultivating coffee in Hawaii. The promoters of the enterprise are all business men with extensive interests in various States. My headquarters are at Lincoln, though my business frequently takes me to Chicago, where a majority of the stockholders of the coffee company reside. Every member of our company is making money, and we have no complaint to make of the prospects at home; but from what we have ascertained of the outlook for coffee in Hawaii, we think we are entering something as good or better than can be found in the States.

"We have a partial agreement for about 3000 acres of land near Hilo on Hawaii. Doubtless all of it will be required, as we are going into the business on a large scale; but more can be said on that line after we have visited the property. Mr. Peck is the only member of the firm who has really seen the property, and, as his judgment has been in a great measure relied upon we may be safe in claiming 3000 as our starter.

"The first thing to be done is the erection of a house for our manager, the work on which will begin without delay. Next, we will proceed to clear and prepare 800 acres of land for coffee, and 100 acres for sansevieria, the latter being a product in which we have recently become much interested. This will be about as much as we can undertake the first year.

"I believe in diversified industries and we will not confine ourselves to coffee alone by any means. The fiber plant sansevieria, will be cultivated on our plantation as extensively as the profits in its production will guarantee. I have talked with the Commissioner of Agriculture upon the subject of its habits, cultivation, market value, etc., and feel sure it is one of the coming industries of the country. From Mr. Marsden I have received several specimens, which will be forwarded to America, there examined by experts, after which we can calculate upon the advantages of its production.

"We hope to meet President Dole, Mr. Laukae, Commissioner of Crown Lands, agents of other lands, and coffee planters men on Hawaii. I am going more particularly to see Mr. Rycroft, in Puna, who has a young coffee plantation, now about three years old, I believe. From him I hope to gather many points of valuable information.

"I will return to the United States by the Alameda October 18th. Mr. Witkowski will remain until November 1st and then proceed via Vancouver to the Sound to look after private lumber interests. During the winter Mr. Witkowski will return with ten or twelve persons, establishing them on the plantation. Within a year or two about 100 more will be brought out. I hope to move with my family to the Islands after a time.

"We expect no returns for our money in four or five years. It will be all expense for at least that period, but we enter it with our eyes open and believe the prospects to be exceedingly flattering. We are in it to succeed, and that article comes to all who wait."

HAWAIIANS ARE AHEAD.

The List of Voters Reduced to 1917 Names.

Twenty-eight of the names on the registration list have been cancelled. This leaves 1917 persons on this island who may vote in the coming election. These cancellations were due to illegal registration, more particularly to non-payment of taxes and not having been residents of districts on this island long enough prior to the sitting of the Board.

The following shows the nationality of those who can vote. It will be observed that Hawaiians head the list:

Pointer on Sugar.

In a report to the State Department by United States Consul-General Williams, at Havana, that official states that no previous period in the history of the Cuban sugar industry has been so disastrous as that beginning in August, 1893. The planters suffered heavy losses, although the quantity of sugar produced was the largest recorded on the island. A general report on the industry, which is to be laid before the Spanish Cortes at the next session, calls for remedial legislation. It asserts that, with very few exceptions, the sugar works not only yield no profits, but do not meet expenses, including interest.—The Iron Age.

HOW SWEET IS REVENGE.

FOR IT TWO LAMBS ARE NOW WITH THE GOATS.

The Results of Handling Beer and Taking a Shirt—The Moral is Far-reaching.

There has been a disruption in the ranks of the Salvation Army by which Privates Blackburn and Stokes, two of its loudest singers, have been severely rebuked and the privilege of sitting upon the platform during meetings deprived them. It amounts to more than this. There has been a clash of authority between the officials of the Salvation Army and the captain of Company A, N. G. S., in which the former has come out winner.

To get at the root of the thing the circumstances must be followed back a little. When the Salvation Army began its campaign in Honolulu some weeks ago Blackburn and Stokes both joined and became earnest soldiers. Every night they joined in the parades, testified on the street corners, sat on the platform during meetings and appealed to the congregations assembled in the hall in the interests of their spiritual welfare. This was all right, and everything went well.

Blackburn then got a job as fireman on the dredger under Captain Smith of Company A. Unfortunately, however, Blackburn did not suit the dredger man and Captain Smith was inquiring of John Emmelhuth the same day for a new fireman. Mr. Emmelhuth recommended Stokes, who was employed and Blackburn discharged. Then there was bad blood between Privates Blackburn and Stokes of the Salvation Army.

About this time Company A had drill and a keg of beer was brought. Blackburn and Stokes were both on hand. Captain Smith detailed Stokes to turn the faucet for the beer drinkers which was done with neatness and dispatch. Blackburn was more than a casual observer of the proceeding, and as he sat there watching the agility of his fallen brother at turning the tiny handle so that the beverage might come gurgling and foaming out, he plotted the revenge for which his aggrieved heart had yearned.

The next night the whole story was known to the officers of the Salvation Army. Blackburn was giggling all under his vest when Stokes entered the hall; his revenge was complete, for when the way-faring young man attempted to ascend the platform he was stopped and relegated to a seat with the audience there to remain during a season of probation.

Then Stokes plotted revenge. Blackburn sat on the platform smiling and care-free, a trifle of a triumphant feeling, perhaps, tickling his breast, while Stokes sat in the crowd, looking dark and thinking bad things. And he was not long in hatching up a most awful expose of Brother Blackburn, for while the latter sat there singing and smiling, he wore a shirt which he had taken from a negro on the dredger; and Stokes knew it. The officers of the Salvation Army were promptly informed of the wickedness of Brother Blackburn, in that he did take a shirt from a poor negro workman and wore the said shirt at an army meeting.

The result was that Blackburn was promptly called down and sent to sit among sinners, of which many abound at some of those meetings. Now both of these converts pasture without the fold, sing their songs among the wicked and cast longing eyes toward the lofty seats they once occupied; for one is accused of drawing beer and the other of appropriating a shirt.

GROSSLY SENSATIONAL.

THE PENROSE ATTACK PROPERLY CHARACTERIZED.

Letter From Professor Alexander—Somebody Wanted to Get in a Dig Under the Fifth Rib.

EDITOR STAR:—The sensational article in regard to the Rev. S. R. L. Penrose which appeared in the P. C. Advertiser Tuesday morning is grossly misleading and has given offense to his best friends. Mr. Penrose came to Honolulu at the invitation of the Central Union Church, and with the recommendation of such men as his former pastor, Rev. Walter Fear, and Dr. McLean of Oakland. He fully justified the expectations which had been formed of him, and won the hearts of the congregation.

The standing committee of the church held a meeting July 27th at which it was unanimously voted to take the preliminary steps required by their constitution to call him as a permanent pastor. At his own request the public notice was not given, and he informed officers of the church that he considered it his duty to return to his work in the State of Washington.

Unwilling to give him up, they held a meeting August 10th, at which every possible argument was used to induce him to reconsider his resolution, but in vain. It was then shown by a partial canvass of the congregation that there was remarkable unanimity in his favor. The "minority" who "disliked him," exists only in the imagination of the writer of the article in question. It was not till September 12th, after the arrival of his successor, as acting pastor, that the trivial incident occurred, upon which that whole article is founded, and which seems to have called out much more discussion outside of the church than within it. It is to be feared that some uncharitable people may be tempted to think that the publication of such a statement was prompted not so much by friendship to Mr. Penrose as by an anxiety to get in a sly hit under somebody's "fifth rib."

W. D. ALEXANDER.

HAWAIIANS TURN RADICALS.

An Enthusiastic Meeting of Natives Last Night.

The Hawaiian Republican Club met at the American League hall Tuesday evening. The attendance was quite large, more than fifty members being present. The club decided upon a policy extremely radical in its nature. From the speeches one would suppose that they would countenance nothing save the present Government and that only so long as it may stand for annexation. They are opposed to any man going into office who is not a republican and an annexationist.

After preliminary business the slate published in Tuesday's STAR, with the addition of the name of Walter Wainman for the House, was read and endorsed. The list contained seven names for the Senate and five for the House. The club has agreed to support any person or persons chosen from the list by the nominating convention, which meets next Saturday. The special fight for nominations will be, however, in the interests of Cecil Brown for the Senate and D. L. Naone for the House.

Every man in this club is an Hawaiian and a radical. They say they must be radical because of the large conservative element in the outer districts with which they must contend. They center on two planks: the present Government and annexation to the United States. These will be their campaign banners as well, and their march will be joined by many more natives with like sentiments before election day.

THE DAILY COMPANY.

"The Silver King" Successfully Presented Tuesday Night.

The celebrated melodrama, "The Silver King," in five acts, was presented by the Dailey Company at the Opera House Tuesday evening. Everything, except the handling of the scenery, was smooth and rhythmic throughout, and Mr. Dailey is to be congratulated upon the success of perhaps the most difficult number of his repertoire.

Mortimer Snow as the Silver King, Louis Belmont as Jakes, and Kate Dalgleish as Nellie Denver may be classed as wholly successful in the presentation. Al Hallett and Richard Scott were both fully equal to themselves, and Miss Samary was charming and successful as Oliver Skinner. Dailey, Weiner and P. A. Nannary made very efficient and original looking toughs, so perfectly so that a policeman in the gallery kept his eyes on them throughout the performance. Thursday evening the beautiful society comedy-drama, "Jim the Penman" will be presented.

HONOKAUA NOTES.

HONOKAUA, Oct. 6.—The Iwalei arrived at Kukuhihale yesterday evening and stayed at the Gulch for the evening and reached Honokua this p. m. She will leave at about 5 o'clock this evening.

The weather continues hot and dry as usual, and the scarcity of water of last year seems to threaten the people of this district again.

The Honokua Club is on the eve of secession; one of the members dislikes another for being a business opponent and has been trying to pitch him "body and soul" out of the door of the said club.

THE A. U. P. CONVENTION.

WILL MEET HERE NEXT SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

The States and Opinions of Leading Politicians—Platform of Principles Being Prepared.

The Island Convention to nominate a legislative ticket and put forth a platform of principles will meet at the American League hall next Saturday at 2 p. m. The number of delegates to this convention are appointed among the several districts as follows:

Club No. 1 (formerly 1st district), 5 delegates; Club No. 2 (formerly 2nd district), 4 delegates; Club No. 3 (formerly 3rd district), 6 delegates; Club No. 4 (formerly 4th district), 5 delegates; Club No. 5 (formerly 5th district), 4 delegates; Club No. 6 (formerly 6th district), 2 delegates; Clubs Nos. 7a and 7b (formerly 7th district), 1 delegate each; Clubs Nos. 8a and 8b (formerly 8th district), 1 delegate each. Total, 30.

The primary election for delegates to the Island Convention was held in Honolulu last Thursday, October 4th, and in the outer districts Saturday, Oct. 6th. The successful candidates at those elections were as follows:

Club No. 1—J. A. Kennedy, A. W. Keech, T. F. Lansing, D. L. Naone and Thomas Wright.

Club No. 2—George Smith, J. S. Martin, E. F. Bishop and John Souza.

Club No. 3—C. W. Day, W. R. Sims, Julius Asche, J. H. Fisher, Charles Crozier and H. G. Wooten.

Club No. 4—T. B. Murray, Edward Towse, John Effinger and W. P. O'Brien.

Club No. 5—John Emmelhuth, D. Kelipio, D. P. Kaiana, and E. C. Winston.

Club No. 6 (Koolaula and Koolaula-poko)—Wm. Henry and Pahlia.

Club No. 7a (Kahuku)—W. H. G. Arnanan.

Club No. 7b (Waialua)—J. A. McCandless.

Club No. 8a (Ewa)—W. J. Lowrie.

Club No. 8b (Pearl City)—James Torbert.

Several states have been made out, but it is believed that none so far has met with the approval of any considerable number of delegates. The Hawaiian Republican Club has prepared a list which it will recommend, and several enthusiastic politicians from the various clubs are canvassing the city in the interest of special states.

Mr. F. A. Kennedy, president of the American Union party, is authority for the statement that no names have yet been decided upon, or will be before Saturday.

The slate prepared by the Hawaiian Republican Club and endorsed by several members of other clubs is as follows: For Senators: P. C. Jones, Henry Waterhouse, H. W. Schmidt, J. A. McCandless, J. N. Wright, Cecil Brown, J. B. Castle.

For Representatives: D. L. Naone, L. C. Ables, C. L. Carter, Captain Clinie, Walter Wainman.

Several of the above named will doubtless receive favorable consideration at the hands of the Convention, as they have the endorsement of contrary factions, but others will likely be dropped out. Objections are freely expressed to the arrangements of the Senatorial list. At least one man is considered out of the question on account of his Asiatic labor sentiments. Another has repeatedly asserted that he would not run.

In the list for the House objectionable features are also pointed out. Some of the names will not appear in the true slate, and Mr. C. L. Carter will likely receive the endorsement of the party for the Senate. He would probably decline a nomination to the House, and, besides, his services are required by the American Union Party in the Senate.

On another slate appear the names of John Emmelhuth, W. F. Allen and D. B. Smith for the Senate, besides a few of the above named.

All three of these have proved themselves the best of men during many months of faithful service to the Government and the people's service for which they did not receive a penny. John Ena and F. B. McStocker have both been spoken of, but it is understood that neither will accept nomination on account of business pressure.

Perhaps by Saturday morning a slate will be arranged which will receive the endorsement of the conservatives. Honolulu is entitled to six Senators and six Representatives.

One great duty of the Island Convention Saturday afternoon will be to put forward a platform of principles. This also is being prepared. Mr. J. A. Kennedy, speaking of the matter this morning said: "Annexation is the keynote of the situation and will be the chief plank in the platform. Every man in convention, I believe, will be in full accord with this sentiment. We purpose selecting men who are pledged to annexation, and who will work in the interest of that cause."
